

HEALTHY FOOD PACKAGING SUPPORTERS

For toxic-free food, people,
and environment

January 2018

United behind the belief that cancer-causing nonstick PFAS chemicals do not belong in our food, our bodies, or the environment, over 30 organizations have come together to urge passage of the Healthy Food Packaging Act (HB 2658). This bill will phase out the use of PFAS chemicals in food packaging in favor of safer alternatives. It's a good first step toward phasing out these "virtually indestructible" chemicals that pollute Washington state.
